

Not sure what Instructional Method (“Inst Methd”) means?

The Connecticut State Community Colleges offer the following course types to address learning, scheduling, and safety considerations for all in our educational community:

Instructional Method Code	Course Location	Schedule	Instructional Method Description	Technology Needs
FLEX (Hyflex)	Varies based on method	Varies based on method (TRAD, LRON, ONLN)	This course delivery method provides students with the most flexibility. In the Hyflex course design, students can: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Choose to attend face-to-face, classroom-based synchronous class sessions (TRAD), or Choose to participate in synchronous live remote online sessions presented via WebEx, Teams, or Collaborate, without physically attending class (LRON), or Complete part, or all, of the course instruction asynchronously, without attending scheduled live sessions (either on-ground or remotely) (ONLN). 	Student Technical Requirements - Minimum: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Dependent upon participation method - please refer to the TRAD, LRON or ONLN student technical requirements.
HYBR (Hybrid)	Both on-ground and online	Scheduled on-ground class times; Online work as assigned	Combines synchronous on-ground or remote instruction and asynchronous online instruction. This course method is for courses that have required hands-on components that cannot be accomplished online or asynchronously, for example: labs, manufacturing, clinical, technology, or digital arts courses. Students will be required to attend scheduled class sessions on-ground or remotely as noted in the schedule. Due to social distancing requirements, delivery of this instructional method may be limited, or alternatives to on-ground meetings may be implemented.	Student Technical Requirements - Minimum: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> A reliable computer (https://cscu.edusupportcenter.com/sims/helpcenter/common/layout/SelfhelpArticleView.seam?inst_name=cscu&article_id=1912-1551795) A stable internet connection (not a hotspot) Multiple supported browsers installed (https://cscu.edusupportcenter.com/sims/helpcenter/common/layout/SelfhelpArticleView.seam?inst_name=cscu&article_id=1912-1469199) Speakers Adobe Acrobat Reader (Free): https://get.adobe.com/reader/ Office 365 (Free for enrolled students): https://supportcenter.ct.edu/service/office365.asp

LRCR (Live Remote On-Ground)	Online or On-Ground	Scheduled on-ground or online class times	This course delivery method requires students to attend a synchronous class at a specified time and day as noted in the schedule but allows students to take a course partially onsite and partially live remote online (via video conference). This may be according to a set rotating schedule to ensure social distancing (for example, 1/2 of the students are synchronous online on Tuesdays while 1/2 are on-ground in the classroom, and then the schedule is flipped), OR if social distancing is no longer a concern, students will have the option of attending class on-ground or continuing to participate via live online remote.
